Well, well, well, new gi...North Dakota's Ben Kotala has inspired and coached the state's softball team to two of its most recent state tournament championships. Now a junior at Creighton University, Kotala is not only looking to finish what he started at the regional level, but also take North Dakota's softball into a higher level of play. "We took a step up, we won our division," Kotala said. "I think we're going to go to state again and hopefully place in the top three this year." The Tigers placed third in the Class A North Dakota high school softball state tournament in 1997, and won the Class A title in 2012. Creighton, the No. 5 national team in Division II, finished second in its tournament after losing to North Dakota in three games in the semifinals. Kotala's motivation is staying in his home state for college. "It's great," he said. "It's nice to have your school close." The C.J. Tuttle High School coach said he is not sure whether he will play the position of coach again at the state tournament, but he wants to stay involved. "When you win the state tournament, I think it is something you want to do for a long time," he said. "It's special and you want to be part of something that is going good." Tuttle's state runner-up team last year finished with a 14-2 record. The Tigers are riding a two-year ride of winning 18 games, as well as finishing No. 2 in the nation in 2010 and last year. Kotala helped the Tigers reach their first regional final since 1997 and their state semifinals. He said Tuttle's success is due to his dedication to creating a winning program. "These guys have worked hard," he said. "They've worked really well together to get where they have." Tuttle's 19 wins, along with eight shutouts, are two of the highest totals in the county. Kotala said the team's overall teamwork and individual drills must be improved. "I think we

The year was 1954. The young Taylor town was a raucous place during deer hunting season. Pennsylvania game wardens were out in full force as Jeffery Davis had been telling some tall tales about his encounter with a wanted outlaw and vampire, so the police started to look into it. Soon it all got out of hand and charges were filed against Davis & the young girl accused of being the vampire. Beating the odds, Davis & his young sidekick snatched up the girl and fled, heading for the border. Within the next couple of weeks, Davis appeared on several late night talk shows and claimed to know the identity of the female vampire. The series was picked up by several television networks and the public had a pretty good idea who the girl was when vampires started to appear again. The prisons were filled once again, and those who confessed to being vampires were forced to dig their own graves. The book about vampires was slammed in the world of the young adult genre. Meanwhile, around the world, young people were becoming fans of the Twilight series. A dateline on one of the Twilight cards read "Taylor Pennsylvania". The story was a rough outline of the events that had transpired. Just when the public would have lost interest in the vampire craze, Hollywood immediately saw the potential for more films. What happens to the vampires, how do vampires get around, who is the female vampire, how did the public in areas such as Russia see them and what happens next? Cat-to-cat puzzle game is designed by a developer with many years of experience in the field. Games in the same category: A 360°D vertical Free-Scrolling Shooter with a unique design. Each level of the game includes 3 goals, each goal is surrounded by a rotating cylinder-like obstacles. The closer the ship gets the more difficult it becomes to fire the guns without overheating. Each level ends at a boss arena. The boss arena is not your usual boss. It is a boss that does not move. You control the ship movement, you must kill all the boss with your guns, but it is not easy. The bosses have different characteristics and behaviors, some of them have the ability to slow the player with their sensors. An important feature of the game is that when you beat a boss the level is not over. The boss has a weak spot and it is your chance to shoot it. Some bosses cannot be shot, and it will force you to face them without any help. Once the boss is defeated, you will also face a decoy version of the boss. Features: * Dynamic controls * A unique experience * A very polished game * Multiple ways to finish each level * 6 challenging bosses * 50 challenging levels * Hours of original music * An Open Source project
