Players can now choose whether to use or not the on-the-ball controls of the old-fashioned "classic" and "control" styles (selecting play styles before each match from pre-defined options as in the last FUT seasons), and they can also choose to play with any of the tournament modes, rankings and challenges from FIFA's various series of football (soccer) games. Among the new titles that were developed for the new game are five completely new teams, six new stadiums, more than 100 new player cards, and new commentary. In the FIFA Ultimate Team mode, players can also create their own virtual team cards of up to 25 players from around the world, taking on the most famous teams in the world in every international championship or club competition. In addition, each virtual team has a first name and a second one, a personal icon, a photo, and a set of unique statistics for each player. Finally, players can choose to add a number of different customizations to their virtual player, such as game jerseys, crests, and alternative kits, as well as new tattoos. The mode can be played as it is, or it can be turned into a competitive mode in a real-time match. The competition mode can be run as a friendly match, leagues, cup competitions, playoffs, and even the World Cup. The D.C United stadium in Washington, D.C., has been transformed for the 2015 edition of the MLS, with the new MLS D.C United stadium offering all new features and customization options for players. MLS D.C United is the result of the merger between the old Washington team and D.C. United, with the headquarters in California in the United States, and will be led by Jason Levien, the former president and chairman of AEG, which owns the Los Angeles Football Club team in the MLS, and is also the president of MLS. MLS D.C United is the first team not based in the United States, although it is scheduled to be based at the Maryland stadium MCI Center in the coming years. The team is also very close to the MLS academy teams, since not only the headquarters and training centers are nearby, but also the club's old headquarters is still in Section 106 of the RFK Stadium, from where the MLS academy teams took their first steps. In addition, the soccer facilities in the area are accessible to the public, with the new Virginia

The FIFA series is the most popular videogame franchise for the PlayStation®2 computer entertainment system, the PlayStation®3 computer entertainment system, Xbox® and Xbox 360® video game consoles, the PC and Mac. FIFA is an action football video game series developed by EA Canada and published by Electronic Arts. In the series, the player controls a club and takes on players from the opposing team. The series comprises the long running FIFA Soccer, the more recent FIFA Football and the football simulation game FIFA Soccer Winning Eleven.

As with other sports videogames, the series presents players with detailed footballers in the likeness of real footballers. In the series, the player takes control of the most prestigious club in the world, FIFA Club World Cups and the football players and picks the best team to compete in the Club World Cup by earning bonus points for the top players in FIFA Career Mode, FIFA Ultimate Team™ and Pro Clubs Mode. There is also a football simulation game edition, FIFA Winning Eleven which is similar to the FIFA soccer series. What do you need to play FIFA? The game is playable on all systems. However, the best experience will be had if you have a DVD drive. You also need a game controller. To play the game on your TV, be sure to have a second monitor (viewable simultaneously) or use a second game controller. Are there any other requirements? In order to play on PS4™ system, you will need to download the 'FIFA Ultimate Team Pass™' from the PlayStation®Network. The PlayStation®Network and Xbox Live account you use to download the game must be connected to the same PlayStation®3 system or Xbox 360® system you wish to play the game on. You will not be able to transfer your game between systems without deleting it and reinstalling on a new system. Additionally, on Xbox 360, you will need an Xbox Live Gold membership. (You will need an EA SPORTS™ FIFA 22 GOLD membership on PS4™ system for 'FIFA Ultimate Team™ Pass' to download on PS3 and PS4.) Since the game is an online title, you will also need a broadband Internet connection to play the game online. If you are experiencing trouble signing in or signing out of the game, it could be due to an excessive amount of traffic to the EA web site. Please try to reduce the number of programs or other devices you have running when playing the game. Pre
